

Grief.

Sometimes, grief appears as a giant teardrop, too large to burst because the flood might kill you.

But if you ask your God for help instead of bursting, the tear will drain outside and away from you, leaving you refreshed and invigorated.

Written by Peter Skeels © 6-28-2024